VOL. XVII] FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1817. [18[illegible]

Land for Sale.

A tract or parcel of Land containing between two and three hundred acres, on the north side of Occoquan, in Fairfax county, about 5 miles west of Occoquan mills. It is well watered with never failing springs, it is also well timbered, and the great quantity of fur timber on it renders it the more valuable to any person in the coopering line. This land is of the middle soil, and produces corn, wheat or any other grain tolerable well—there is about 100 acres cleared and under good fence. The improvements are a log dwelling house & other out houses; and a good apple orchard of about sixty trees.

ALSO,

One other tract in the same county, within three miles of Occoquan, lying on Sandy Run, containing 47 acres—one half in cultivation and under good fence, the remainder heavily timbered. There are on the premises an old framed dwelling house and out houses and an apple orchard of eighty bearing trees.

Any person inclining to purchase can view the premises and know the terms by applying to the subscriber who lives near them.

Notice.

The public are hereby informed that a Company has been formed under the title of THE QUANTICO WAREHOUSE COMPANY, who have erected, one mile below the town of Dumfries, a large and convenient Warehouse on Quantico creek, for the storage of flour, grain, etc. which warehouse will be ready for the reception of produce on Monday the third of Feb. next. The trustees of said Company have appointed Zebulon Kankey their Agent, to attend the said Warehouse, to receive produce on storage and grant receipts for the same. And for the prompt delivery of all articles received in the said warehouse by their agent, (fire alone excepted) the Company hold themselves bound. All persons depositing flour, grain, etc. must pay, before taken away, the following storage, viz. For each barrel of flour 6 cents; if it remains in said warehouse one month 8 cents; and in the same proportion for the time it may remain. For each bushel of wheat or other grain two cents; if it remains over one month three cents; and in the same proportion for the time it may remain. And for all articles of merchandise a reasonable storage only will be demanded. Persons storing flour may have it inspected, or not, at their option. If not inspected, the agent's receipt will specify the brand and the state of the barrels The weight of one bushel wheat, running measure of each load or parcel of wheat. All articles stored, the same to be returned to the owner when called for, be it flour, wheat, other grain, etc. Customary allowances for wastage, etc. excepted.

Quantico Warehouse is situated on Quantico Creek, only two miles from its junction with the Potomac river, at all times navigable for lighters. There are belonging to this creek a sufficient number of lighters to ensure a brisk transportation down the creek of all articles stored. Vessels may be got to take produce to the district of Columbia, Baltimore, Norfolk, or elsewhere. The present freights are—To the district twelve and half cents per barrel of flour, and to Baltimore and Norfolk 25 cents from the mouth of Quantico. The proximity of this warehouse to a large extent of country, added to the goodness of roads leading to it from the westward being little inferior to paved ones. It being found by actual survey little more than 25 miles from Hay Market to Dumfries, will, it is confidently believed by the trustees, by this route greatly lessen the expense of transportation of produce even to the district of Columbia, and they pledge themselves to the public to use every means within their power to give satisfaction.

ELOQUENT EULOGIUM.

In the recent debate on the Compensation Law, the venerable name of Edmund Burke, was not unfrequently used with irreverence by several of the members of the house.—Mr. Randolph, in one of his eloquent & desultory speeches, adverted to the circumstance, and pronounced, without preparation, the following beautiful eulogium on the illustrious man, whose name and character had been profaned:

"A great name has been introduced into this debate—the name of Edmund Burke, and not more to my surprise than to my regret, it has been treated by some gentlemen with unwarrantable freedom. Sir, this great man has been mentioned as if he were some miserable hireling, some Peter Porcupine, no longer known under that appellation, but now become "Mr. Cobbett," and as such referred to and quoted as high authority—the highest jacobinic authority cited beyond the Atlantic, surpassing even in weight, that of his noble pupil, the member from Westminster, himself.

Sir, the name of Burke excites in me the same train of ideas, as to government, that Newton does in relation to Physics, and Locke in regard to the human mind, and I look upon every man who calls in question the political principles of Burke as I should regard him who should attempt to build up the old, or construct some new theory of Philosophy, upon the ruins of the Newtonian system. Sir, with respect to the principles of Burke, there is now no longer room for dispute—they are settled as incontestibly as the principles of Sir Isaac Newton—they are now and must forever be the principles of every sagacious statesman, they are the principles of the honorable gentleman, from South Carolina (Mr. Calhoun) if I understood him the other day; and may be comprised in four short words—Man as he is, in contradistinction to dreams and fancies of governing Man as he is not, and will never be, and as well sir, might theorists by imputing to matter some imaginary quality which does not and never can belong to it—unless it should please Him who made it to change its nature—hope to overthrow the system of gravitation, as to combat the doctrines of Burke. Sir, Edmund Burke was not impiric. He did not present the world with the infallible pill, or the infallible drop, which was to cure every disease incident to man, suited to every constitution, and age, and sex, and habit, and circumstance, and season. No sir, he said, "let me see the patient let me hear the case"—And in this sir, consists the difference, not in medicine only, but in politics, and in every profession and calling in life, between the regular practitioner and the quack.

Sir, it is with reluctance, that with every other light that can be thrown upon the case, the physician will prescribe without seeing the patient; never where access to him is practicable, and what shall we think of the treatless impostor who for all ages, sexes, habits and diseases has but one prescription and one nostrum—who wishes not to see the patient, not to know even the nature of the complaint, but is prepared, beforehand, with a mode of treatment at whatever hazard of health of happiness, of life; and trust me, sir, millions and tens of millions have been sacrificed by this empiricism in politics, as well as in medicine. For do you believe that this complicated machine called government, and all the multifarious disorders and distempers to which it is liable require less judgment and skill in the treatment than are necessary in an ordinary case of bodily disease? What sir, will you stimulate and deplete with the same nostrum; shall we purge the general weal, and cleanse the public blood, with less knowledge of the patient or the science than would set up a country apothecary? Will you trust the imposter who tells you, although your blood were as leprous as "the buried majesty of Denmark" poisoned through his ears, "take that and you shall be whole and smooth and fair as a healthy infant." It was against this whole tribe of political charlatans that Burke entered the lists, and they were no more.

Sir, I have been hurried away from the question by the name of Edmund Burke, a powerful spell, for I had not the most remote thought of him when I rose, or of the subject of instructions. Let me, however suggest to my honorable colleague—he will pardon the liberty, for I have known him from his childhood, and have been in the habits of personal and political intimacy with his father before him—let me suggest to him, who has spoken somewhat lightly, not to say irreverently of the august name of the great father of political philosophy, that he may stand in danger of that, which I am persuaded he would shun, the sin of ingratitude, a deep and deadly sin. Sir, next to George Washington, Edmund Burke was the best friend this country ever knew. I will not refer to his other works, imperishable as the art of printing or as language, but I will entreat my worthy colleague to read his address to the king, and to the colonists in 1777, and then lay his head on his pillow, if he can, without sentiments of the deepest gratitude and veneration for the memory of Edmund Burke.

LONDON, Nov. 19

A new creation of Baronets is much talked of in the first circles; the Baronet age will be enlarged by persons of high worth and character and of distinguished talents and services.

Another separation in high life is talked of as being in contemplation.

The opulent Mr Watson Taylor is about to make large purchases in the Isle of Wight.

Orders have been received from the Grand Seignor for various articles of British manufacture, which are intended to decorate his new palace at Constantinople particularly in cut glass.

The Emperor Alexander was expected at Petersburgh on the 23d. During his stay at Kiow his Majesty visited the manufactories of earthenware of that city, and ordered that henceforth it should be used at his own table.

The duke of Wellington is expected in a few days at Paris.

The king of Wirtemberg has continued his father's Secretary of State.

Yesterday after a very unusual suspension of intercourse between the two countries, we received nine days Paris papers, the greatest number that we ever recollect to have been due, at any period even of the late war. The business of the chambers, up to the 14th, was chiefly preliminary; but it was nevertheless important, inasmuch as it proved the gratifying fact of the complete triumph of the true friends of the Monarch and those of the Constitutional Charter, over the obnoxious faction of the Ultras, now driven by their defeat to the utmost state of despair. On the 14th the Budget was laid before the Chamber of Deputies. Under the present circumstances of France it would be unreasonable to look for a very favorable report of its financial state. When however it is considered through what scenes that kingdom has been doomed to pass, the picture of its resources presented on this occasion by the minister of Finance may on the whole be deemed as by no means bearing a very discouraging complexion. The instalments to the Allies have all been regularly paid, as have the annuitants and Stockholders; the funds have maintained a fair price; public works and still carrying on; and even the sciences have been neglected.

The minister states however, that in consequence of so many demands an increase of upwards of eighty three millions of francs is to be provided for in the supplies for 1817. The whole budget for 1817 is 1,088 294 975 francs, about 47 millions English money, exceeding that of 1816 by the sum of 240,699 296 francs. The minister thus concludes this report: "Peace is restored to us. If the peace be onerous, it does not equal that which the perpetuity of war and perils, in which we have been engaged for 25 years, would incur. At least the effusion of blood is stopped. Our youth breathe again. Our commerce is not harrassed and tormented with his exactions. Its channels are no longer obstructed. It no longer dreads monopolies, and if we suffer still, the term of our distress is known. Thus our present position is more tolerable than that which preceded it."

New colors were presented last week at Portsmouth to the gallant 86th foot, and consecrated in the garrison chapel, remains of the old standards, now deposited with their colonel, the hon. St. John, were first received at Winchester 17 years back. Of the whole corps of officers, 63 since that period have either been killed on the field, fatally wounded, or died, and only three are now left: of 92 sergeants remain but 18: of 24 drummers, three: and of 1050 rank and file, 28 only! the whole casualties sustained by the corps since the receipt of the colours, 876!

ALEXANDRIA.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 7.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON.

February 6.

The business on which Congress, I mean particularly the House of Representatives, was employed yesterday, was a train of bills respecting our military establishment, in the slight discussion upon which nothing occurred worth any extraordinary notice, but a short speech of the Speaker's in answer to an assertion of General Harrison, that our officers, the higher ones particularly, were worse paid, and fewer in proportion to the number of men than those of any country in Europe. The reply of the Speaker was, for the length of it, as animated a specimen of unpremeditated, spontaneous eloquence as I have heard for many years. It came hot from the mint of the heart, and was felt and applauded by men of all parties. Nor was it the less deserving of praise for enforcing the necessity of economy and retrenchment in the military department.

THE GOLDEN OR SILVER AGE RETURNING.

We have the satisfaction of announcing, that at a meeting of the bank delegates from Richmond, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and New York, held in this city on Saturday last, it was resolved that the respective banks represented, would resume the payment of specie on the 20th of this month. This measure will almost instantaneously, produce the important effect of equalizing the currency of the United States, as well as to abolish the circulation of small tickets, which have so long vexed and abused the public. It now only remains with the public to exercise a corresponding disposition with the banks, to insure the happiest results from this arrangement. There are no doubt large sums of specie dispersed throughout the community, which has been withheld from circulation in consequence of the peculiarly delicate situation of the national finances. The present is the proper period for the holders to unlock their coffers; and, by seconding the judicious measures of the banks, to effect a restoration of public confidence, which is all that is wanted to insure a general specie circulation throughout the U. States.

The arrangement of the banks, noticed above, has already had the effect of reducing the premium on specie, as well as equalizing the exchange between N. York, Baltimore and Philadelphia. It is even stated that some exchange Broker's signs had been taken down. This is surely a good sign of the times.

From the supercargo of the George Watson, who has arrived in town, we have been enabled to obtain a correct account of the men who recently came on shore at Hyannis and reported themselves to have belonged to the British brig Braddock. seaman, who signed his name Neil Murphy, and another by the name of Joseph Smith, the latter discharged from an English ship, were received on board at St. Thomas. On the arrival of the ship at Edgartown, & while the captain was on shore, Murphy, having plundered one of his shipmates of clothing and a quadrant, being joined by Smith, after putting their things and some sails into the small boat, made their escape in her, and landed at Barnstable, where they propagated the story of having been wrecked. It was night at the time the men ran away and Murphy had previously secreted himself in the bottom of the boat.

This Murphy was mate of the brig Franklin, Tallman of Bath, lying at St. Thomas, and having been guilty of grossly abusing his captain, and other misconduct, was turned on shore, and by the American Consul put on board the Geo. Watson. It is not certainly known that his real name is Murphy, but that he was mate of the above vessel, our informant was told both by capt. Tallman, and the Consul. Boston Palladium.

A letter from Havana, dated 19th inst. received yesterday by the schooner Caroline, says, "Our market is very bad for all kinds of merchandise, and like most other places is overstocked. Flour is dull, has been sold at 21 dollars but is very plenty. Coffee is 12 dollars, and all other produce proportionable high, on account of the great number of vessels here. Rice 8 dollars"

Halifax, Jan. 15—22.

We understand that for the future the English mails for Nova Scotia, &c during the winter months, will be sent from Falmouth to New York, and not to Bermuda as heretofore.

The last mail from Quebec reached Fredericktown in five days and a half, a distance of 500 miles.

Her Ladyship the countess of Dalhousie gave an elegant ball and supper on her Majesty's birth night: upwards of 200 persons were present.

A curious piece of etiquette (says the Washington Weekly Gazette) occurred in Constantinople. The Seraglio caught fire, and no person dared to approach in order to extinguish the same, for fear of seeing the ladies, which is contrary to the law of Musselmen. The ladies of the harem, however, amounting to about fifty, like true women, set up their pipes and squalled most vociferously for assistance, and the nearer the flames approached the more pressing were their invitations to the men to assist them. The Turks however did not approach until the flames actually threatened destruction to the fair captives; at length they were released, each of them decorously veiled so that, on this alarming occasion, no law was violated, and no decorum outraged.

The king and Mr. West. Mr. West was in England when the war of the revolution broke out, and openly took a strong stand in behalf of the colonies, the rebels as they were then called. He personally stood well with the king at the time, as in fact he has ever done; but some of his enemies or rivals seized this occasion to attempt to depreciate him, and spoke of it to his majesty, in a way well calculated for their object. His reply, while it did honor to his heart, and effectually rebuked their little malice, conveyed a lesson that all may not have learned: "Well, well, you need not tell me that, West is an honest fellow; and I like him the better for it. A man that don't love his own country, won't love any country, and there is no faith to be put in him."

Miss Boyce of Dury Lane Theatre, was in the habit of occasionally looking at her fingers, while playing, apparently if not really to assist her recollection. One evening, the play was "Wild Goose Chase" resorting with more frequency than usual to this ugly trick, a voice from the pit uncourteously addressed her with "Oriana, is your part written on your nails?"

She with infinite readiness and good humour replied,

"Why, critic, thus complain with brow severe;
"Why blame you that, which all the world commends?
"None can more perfect in her part appear,
"Than she who has it at her finger's ends."

The long reiterated and re-echoed thunder of applause which this produced gave Mr. Critic an opportunity to escape before the inevitable "Out with him" could be served upon his person.

Baltimore, Feb. 4.

From Annapolis we learn, that the bill for enlarging the bounds of the city of Baltimore was passed yesterday by the Senate and has become a law. The bill for establishing a criminal court for the city of Baltimore, as amended by the House of Delegates, was also passed yesterday by the Senate and has become a law, which takes effect, our informant believes from the time of its passage. The bill to prevent Dueling, (published in the Gazette of Wednesday last) has passed the Senate; the first section being so altered as to punish offenders by a confinement in the Penitentiary, instead of the punishment of death as originally reported. A bill has passed both houses authorising the Governor and Council to appoint Wood Corders for the City of Baltimore. The bill for the removal of the Seat of Government is postponed until the next session of Assembly, and a motion to print it for the information of the people, rejected by a vote of 24 to 23. A law has passed for the insolvent debtors in the City and county of Baltimore, the provisions of which are materially different from those of the present system. A bill establishing the salaries of the Judges of Baltimore City court, had been reported but had not passed when our informant left Annapolis.

On Friday last, the trial of Solomon Thomas, a youth in his sixteenth year, on a charge of manslaughter, commenced before the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Jaol Delivery for Baltimore county, now in session in this city. The examination of witnesses & arguments of counsel were not concluded until four o'clock in the afternoon of yesterday. After a charge from Judge Martin, the jury retired to a room where they remained until eleven o'clock this morning, when they appeared in Court and delivered a verdict of Acquittal.

On the southern edge of the Gulph Stream, about lat. 36. long. 70, picked up two barrels flour, branded Baltimore and N. JAMES KENNEDY & SON,

BOOKSELLERS, KING STREET,

have just received from LEE'S PATENT MEDICINE Store, No. 46 Maiden Lane, N. York,

A FRESH SUPPLY

Of the following genuine Medicines.

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers, is recommended

Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings, in several parts of the West Indies, and the Southern & Middle States, particularly in N. York Philadelphia, Baltimore, Petersburg Richmond, Norfolk, Edenton, Wilmington, Charleston, and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons at each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe, that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives, when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy, founded on mere assertion.

It is not, indeed, presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience, for believing that a dose of these Pills, taken once in every two weeks, during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventative; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate, and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile & prevent its morbid secretions—to restore & amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which is so often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance—they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions orfoulness in their stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of, as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and perfectly innocent, and is also mild in its operation, cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleause the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

DESCRIPTION OF WORMS.

And the symptoms by which they are known:

Worms which infest the human body, are chiefly of four kinds, viz.—The Teres, or large round worm; the Ascarides, or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina, or short, flat, white worm; and lastly, the Tænia, or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long, and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious; purging, with slimy & fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; slow fever, with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face coated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success, in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent 'the vomiting and purging of chint'—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys the hands the infa part of our citizens i likewise th mildest and m ce this remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout asthmatic gout, palsy, lumbagoo, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc.

The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding the natural, insensible perspiration, which is essential to health, yet its effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth and improving the complexion.

The Restorative Powder for the teeth and Gums.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all the acrimonious slime and foulness, which suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints resulting from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavourable to the constitution, the immoderate use of tea, frequent inoxication or any other destructive intemperance the unskilful or excessive use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, and lyings in, &c
